Dear participant,

We are glad to inform you that your proposal has been accepted for the Annual Workshop SEEDS on May 4-6, 2023. You can find attached the workshop's draft program.

By April 17, we kindly ask you to double-check that the information you have provided is correct. Some of you expressed the willingness to present but did not provide any title, we invite you to do so by the same date by answering to this email.

The workshop will start on May 4, 2023 at 12:30 and conclude on May 6, 2023 at 13:30 CET.

Each author (online and in presence) will have 10 minutes to present their work and 5 minutes to answer questions. For the online presenters, we kindly ask you to test out your camera and microphone beforehand. Please recall this is not a full paper presentation, but rather a glimpse of your research results.

The attached agenda also contains useful information for presenters and participants, such as how to reach Ferrara and so forth.

Should you need any further clarifications, you can always contact us via this email address.

Thank you,

Regards,

SEEDS Team
